

Pam Farber

Member, Thomas 5 Limited; Daughter of Dave Thomas

Pam Farber began working in her families' restaurant at the tender age of 14. Learning the family business from the ground up was very important to her. Today, she and her family own 33 Wendy's Restaurants located in Columbus, Youngstown and Lake County.

In 1969, Farber's father Dave Thomas, founded Wendy's Old Fashioned Hamburgers restaurants with the opening of the first Wendy's on Broad Street right here in Columbus. The company became one of the world's largest restaurant chains, with more than 6000 restaurants.

Farber is an Alumna of Capital University and currently serves on Nationwide Children's Hospital board. Farber resides in Central Ohio and is married with 3 children.
