

ALLEN PROCTOR
FOUNDER, PROCTOR CONSULTING

Allen J. Proctor graduated magna cum laude from Harvard University and earned a Ph.D. in economics and forecasting from the University of Wisconsin-Madison. He has worked as a top executive for Harvard University, New York City, the New York State Financial Control Board, and the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

In 2001, he founded Allen Proctor Consulting, LLC, and since then has helped clients build solid financial and strategic bases for future growth, based on his Linking Mission to Money® suite of board governance offerings. In addition, he has taught budgeting and finance at Harvard and Columbia Universities and twice served as a reviewer for the prestigious Innovations program sponsored by the Ford Foundation.

He is a regular columnist on nonprofit management for Columbus Business First, and the accomplished author of Linking Mission to Money®: Finance for Nonprofit Board Members. His forthcoming book, More Than Just Money: Practical and Provocative Steps to Nonprofit Success, is an indispensable tool for nonprofit boards, university leaders, and philanthropists struggling to find financial success in a volatile economy.
