

J. CLARKE PRICE, CAE
PRESIDENT AND CEO, THE OHIO SOCIETY OF CPAs

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

38 years with The Ohio Society of CPAs

- 20 as President & CEO
- Extensive PR background
- Registered lobbyist for 36 years

The Ohio Society of CPAs has 22,000 members, 50 staff and a budget of $10 million

Selected as “one of the 100 most influential people in the accounting profession” by Accounting Today newspaper on 10 occasions

Selected as a “technology superstar of 2001” by Accounting Technology magazine

In 2008-2009 served as Chairman of the Board of the American Society of Association Executives, the leading organization serving the association community. As Chairman, presided over and managed governance reform that streamlined the ASAE organizational structure and revitalized the ASAE Foundation

Named a Fellow of the American Society of Association Executives in 2001 – an honor conferred upon less than 1% of association executives in the U.S.

In 2001 received the American Institute of CPAs Distinguished Service Award

In 2006 The Ohio Society of CPAs was selected as one of 9 “remarkable associations” as part of an extensive nationwide study of successful associations, led by Good to Great author Jim Collins, that led to publication of 7 Measures of Success: What Remarkable Associations Do That Others Don't.

In 2011 OSCPA will be featured in a new book to be published by ASAE that is authored by association consultant Harrison Coerver, Race for Relevance: Five Radical Changes for Associations

In 2010 elected to the Franklin University Board of Trustees. Previously served as President of the Franklin University Alumni Association and as a member of the Franklin University Accounting Advisory Board.